

Hagen Realty Group Introduced

Hagen Realty Group emerges on July 1

Carrollton, GA – Hagen Realty Group will emerge on July 1, 2008 after being formerly known as Tranzon Hagen. Founder and President, Kim Hagen, plans to keep the company focus on commercial portfolios and intends to deliver various marketing services to its clients, including auctions.

HRG is more than an auction company. It is an asset disposition firm which offers accelerated marketing through accelerated listings, public outcry auctions, sealed bid auctions, and internet auctions to maximize dollar value for clients. The firm believes that they are to identify highest and best use for each property, research market demands, identify similar properties available in the market, and develop the best marketing solution for each property, while taking into consideration the client's needs and goals. HRG offers more than "one solution fits all."

"Commercial clients are looking for more than one option when it comes to marketing their property. Why not provide more than one alternative?" says Hagen, who has been in the real estate auction business since 1991. "Our industry is changing, and the needs of our clients are changing, you have to either change with the times, or become a dinosaur."

Since entering the real estate auction profession, Hagen has conducted over one thousand auctions and has sold such properties as C-stores, Restaurants, Car Washes, Hotels, Mini Warehouses, and Apartment portfolios at auction with sale results in the millions. In January of this year he closed a $19 Million dollar auction portfolio of 39 closed C-Stores in Michigan and Ohio.

While HRG's primary focus will be in the Southeast, Hagen will be looking to create strategic alliances with other firms, to benefit client's needs.
